

Last Call

Fall Creek Exclusive
U.S. Plant Patent 25,386
High Chill

Last Call, a very late season Northern Highbush, ripens in the same window as ‘Aurora’ and ‘Elliott’. Intended mainly for commercial fresh production in the high value late season market, this vigorous, upright bush produces high yields of large, meaty berries with a ‘classic’ blueberry, slightly aromatic flavor. It’s also recommended for processed fruit or local market growers wanting to extend their harvest season.

Last Call is a variety developed by Fall Creek.

VERY LATE SEASON

BERRY SIZE:

BERRY QUALITIES:

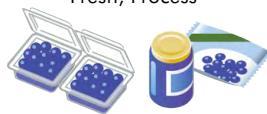

Light Blue, ‘Classic’ Blueberry Flavor

BUSH HABIT:

Extremely Vigorous, Upright,
Thick Canes

PRIMARY USE:

Fresh, Process

“
Last Call is a real work horse of a plant and the berries were consistently preferred in blind taste tests among our employees. I especially like the texture of the berry, and the large berries look great in the fruit lug after harvest.

”
– David Schlosberg

FALL CREEK[®]
FARM & NURSERY, INC.
1.800.538.3001 • www.fallcreeknursery.com

1.800.538.3001
39318 Jasper-Lowell Road
Lowell, Oregon 97452

For more information about Fall Creek’s blueberry varieties or to order in the U.S., please contact the representative listed below for your region:

U.S. & CANADA

Dick Mombell
Commercial Sales & Business Manager
541.463.9238
dmombell@fallcreeknursery.com

OREGON & WASHINGTON

Jim Lovelace
Sales & Grower Support
541.463.9264
jiml@fallcreeknursery.com

SOUTHERN U.S. Sales - FL, GA

Winn Morgan
Earth Berry for Fall Creek 706.340.4173
seblueberries@gmail.com

For international inquiries, please visit the international section of our website at:
www.fallcreeknursery.com

Or email us at: international@fallcreeknursery.com